

INDEX.

densis, I. 26. Jupiter Brontor or the Thunderer, ibid. Jupiter proved to be often represented without a Beard, by many instances, I. 27. Jupiter Pluvius, or the Rainy, I. 28. Jupiter Hammon, ibid. The Oracle of Jupiter Hammon delivered by a Dove, ibid. Jupiter in Company with other Gods, I. 29. Jupiter with Hercules, ibid. Jupiter and the Gods after the Hetruscan manner, I. 30. Jupiter with Isis, and Jupiter Terminalis, I. 31. Jupiter Dolichenus upon a Bull, ibid. Jupiter and Ganymede, I. 132. Jupiter and Europa in several Figures, ibid. Jupiter's various Names, I. 33. The magnificent Temple of Jupiter Olympius described by Pausanias, II. 39. Other Temples of Jupiter, II. 42. Some Temples of Jupiter upon Medals, ibid. The Temple of Jupiter Mylassa, ibid. The Temple of Jupiter Capitolinus, ibid. Another Temple of Jupiter Capitolinus, built upon the ruins of the Temple at Jerusalem, II. 44. Temples of Jupiter under different Names, ibid. Other Temples taken from Medals, ibid. A Sacrifice to Jupiter Hammon, II. 210. Vows to Jupiter, II. 153. Jupiter the same as Tharamis among the Gauls, II. 263. Jupiter worshipped among the Gauls, and in the Alps, II. 266. Lamps of Jupiter, V. 143. Justice, accounted a Goddess by the Greeks, I. 222. Juventus, the Goddess of Youth, Temples of her, II. 63.

L.

L Abani, what his Theraphim were, II. 243. Labicana, a great Gate of Rome, III. 113. Lacerna, a kind of Cloak, III. 16. Lacinia, part of a Garment, III. 17. Lamps, their Origin, V. 137. Three sorts of Lamps, ibid. Figures of several Lamps, ibid. Lighted Lamps used at ~~Religious Ceremonies~~, V. 138. Lamps with several Pipes and Sockets, ibid. Lamps in the shape of a Sphinx, V. 139. A singular Lamp of Albertus, ibid. Lamps in the shape of a Snail, ibid. Others like a Sandal, ibid. Other Lamps, V. 140. Perpetual Lamps, the Reasons and Authorities that are brought to prove there were such, ibid. They are not sufficient: The instance of Tulliola confuted, V. 141. The other instances not certain, V. 142. The Lamps of the Heathen Gods. Of Cybele, ibid. Jupiter Serapis, V. 143, 144. Prometheus's Lamps, V. 145. Those of Neptune, ibid. The Explanation of a passage of Cassiodorus to prove that there were perpetual Lamps, rejected, ibid. Lamps of the Nereids and Tritons, V. 146. Lamps of Apollo, V. 147. Of Sol, ibid. Pegasus, ibid. Mercury, ibid. Minerva and Diana, ibid. Fine Lamps of Diana, V. 148. Lamps of Venus and Cupid, V. 149. Of Hercules, ibid. Lamps of Bacchus and the Bacchantes, ibid. Of Silenus and the Satys, V. 150. A remarkable Lamp, V. 151. Several Lamps in the shape of a Satyr, V. 152. A Lamp representing a Sacrifice to Priapus, ibid. Lamps of Cupid and Hygaea, V. 153. Of Leda, ibid. Of the Lares, ibid. Of the Victories, ibid. A remarkable inscription on a Lamp, V. 154. Lamps with Representations of Battles on them and Men on Horseback, Racers in the Circus, Gladiators, and other things, ibid. Lamps with Representations of the History of Troy, of the Amazons, Ships, Funerals and other Subjects, V. 155. Lapilli, a Play called so, III. 213. Lares. The Genii, Lares and Penates taken often for one another, I. 199. The Origin of the Lares represented anciently under the Figure of Dogs, I. 201. They guarded not only Houses, but Streets and Roads, I. 202. They are taken for the Manes, ibid. The Bulla of young Boys were hung on their Necks, ibid. The several Offices of the Lares, ibid. Images of the Lares, I. 203. Other particular Images of the Lares, ibid. The Lares called Grundiles, I. 204. Temples of the Lares, II. 65.

Latrunculi, or Chess, III. 212.

Latona, her Temple and a singular piece of History, II. 49.

Latus clavus. Vide Habit.

Laverna, the Goddess of Thieves, I. 217.

Laurentum, the Countrey Seat of Pliny the younger described by himself, III. 80.

Lettistertia, what they were, II. 150.

Letticæ, what they were, V. 7.

Leda, taken for Nemesis by some, I. 193.

Legion, the Division, and Sub-division of it. The Number of Soldiers in each Legion, IV. 8. The several Names of Legions, and the Origin of these Names, ibid.

Legs, variety of Names used by the Greeks and Romans, to express their Dresses for them, III. 35. The extravagance of the Romans in them, III. 37. Thirty sorts of them explained, III. 40.

Lembi, a sort of Vessels, IV. 139.

Leopard, the hunting of it, III. 207.

Letters, two sorts of them among the Egyptians, II. 221.

Levies. Vide Soldiers.

Liberty, a Goddess worshipped by the Greeks and Romans, I. 211. Her Temple, II. 65.

Liberality, worshipped as a Goddess, I. 223.

Lilitina, who she was, V. 97.

Liburnæ a sort of Vessels, IV. 140. The Liburnæ according to Vegetius, IV. 157. He seems to assert that the Liburnæ were different from the Lixremes, IV. 158. Inscriptions mentioning the Liburnæ and their Names, ibid.

Ligula and Extispicium, instruments used about Victims, II. 93.

Linnen, whether the Ancients used Shirts and Linen, III. 4.

Lion, worshipped in Egypt, II. 201. A singular way of hunting Lions, III. 208. Another Image of it, ibid. A piece of Hunting taken from a Marble at Rheims, ibid. Trajan hunts a Lion, III. 209.

Lituus or Staff for taking the Auguries, II. 91.

Lituus a Vocal military Ensign, IV. 61.

Lucilla, Wife of Lucius Verus, her Habit, III. 25.

Lucina Juno, her Shape, I. 35.

Lucullus, a History of him, III. 64.

Luna, a Goddess, her Amours with Endymion, I. 230.

Luna Diana, the Moon, and Lucifera or Light-bearer, I. 94.

Lunus, a God mentioned by Spartianus, I. 230.

Luperci, Priests of Rome, II. 24.

Lusitani, their Habits, III. 58. Their Arms, IV. 25.

Lutatius, his Sea-fight against the Carthaginians, and the Victory of the Romans, IV. 183.

M.

M Acclum at Rome, what it was, III. 115.

Macrinus the Emperor, a horrible torture invented by him, V. 164.

Magazines of the Army, IV. 64.

Mail. Vide Coat of Mail.

I N D E X.

- Malachbelus* proved to be the God Lunus, II. 248.
Mallet, one of the sacred Instruments, II. 92.
Mammea, Mother of the Emperor Alexander Severus, her Dress, III. 25.
Manes of the deceased, Men sacrificed to them, V. 15. The Di Manes taken for the Hands, V. 59. Manes, taken sometimes for the Gods of Hell, sometimes for the Souls of the deceased, V. 94.
Mansiones, and Mutationes, what they were, IV. 115.
Marcellus, his Theatre, III. 151.
March of the Roman Army, IV. 66. Another Image of the Armies marching, IV. 67. The march of the Cavalry, ibid.
Marcus Aurelius Lucianus, his Habit and extraordinary Arms, IV. 16.
Marcus Navius Thales, his Habit and extraordinary Arms, IV. 16.
Marcus Aurelius the Emperor, a Bulla of him and Lucius Verus, III. 45. His military Habit, IV. 12. Represented on Horseback, IV. 47. His Triumph, IV. 102.
Margines, Banks called so, raised on the side of publick Ways, IV. 114.
Marius, a dispute about his Tropheys, IV. 93.
Marriage. The Espousals of the Ancients, III. 136. The Customs of the Lacedemonians, relating to Marriage, ibid. Those of the Athenians and others, III. 137. The Roman Laws concerning Marriage, ibid. The Roman Weddings, III. 138. The Sacrifices and Auspicia for Marriage, ibid. At what time the Romans celebrated their Nuptials, ibid. The Ceremonies of the Nuptials, III. 139. The Bride's going from her Father's House to that of her Husband, ibid. The Ceremonies at entring into her Husband's House, III. 140. Other Ceremonies at Nuptials, ibid. The Gods who presided over Nuptials, ibid. Monuments of Nuptials, III. 141. The Aldobrandine Nuptials, ibid. Another Monument representing Nuptials, ibid. A singular Image of Nuptials, III. 142. Other Images, ibid. Symbols of Nuptials, III. 143.
Mars and Venus caught in Adultery by an Artifice of Vulcan, I. 60. This Affair rally'd by St. Chrysostom, ibid. The first Image of the Adultery, I. 61. The second, ibid. Mars, the Origin of him, I. 75. Images of him, I. 76. His Names, ibid. Mars the Father of Romulus, ibid. Mars's Temples, II. 50. Sacrifices to him called Suovetaurilia, the Etymology of that Word, II. 117. The Suovetaurilia divided into the Greater and the Less, ibid. A Bass Relief at Narbonne, II. 118. Other Figures of the Suovetaurilia, ibid. Another Sacrifice to Mars, II. 119. Mars worshipped peculiarly by the Scythians, II. 257.
Marsyas, the Fable of him, I. 65.
Masistius, Lieutenant-General of the Persian Army under Mardonius, his singular Armour, IV. 20.
Masks and merry Andrews, III. 160.
Massagetae, their Cavalry, IV. 51.
Master, of the Horse, in Ancient times, IV. 11.
Materis or Matara, one of the Arms of the Gauls, IV. 23.
Matrons of Rome, Images of their Dress, III. 26.
Matuta, a Goddess of the Romans, I. 206. Her Temples, II. 66.
Mavors, who he was, III. 24.
Mauri, their Habit, III. 58. Their Cavalry, IV. 55. The Habit of their Cavalry, ibid. Battles of their Cavalry, IV. 69.
Mauritania, Heads of its Kings, III. 47.
Mausolea, what they were, V. 79. The Mausoleum of Artemisia, ibid. The Mausolea of the Romans, Vol. V.
- and first of that of Augustus, V. 80. The Mausoleum of Hadrian, ibid. The Septizonium of Severus, V. 81. The Pyramid of Cestius, V. 82. The Trajan and Antonine Pillars were a kind of Mausolea, ibid. Several other Mausolea, ibid. The Mausoleum of Cecilia Metella, V. 84. Of Munatius Plancus, ibid. Of the Plautii, ibid. Other Mausolea, V. 86. Virgil's Mausoleum, V. 88. Measures, III. 97. The Measures of Liquids, of two Pound Weight established by the Emperor Pertinax, III. 98. Other Measures, ibid. The Roman and Attick Measures compared together, ibid. The respect of the Roman Measures to one another, III. 99. Meats of the Ancients, and the Tame Fowl, III. 75. What Meats were esteemed the most delicate, III. 76. Medals that are now preserved in Cabinets proved to be the old Current Money, III. 104. Medusa, the History of her, I. 88. Megara married to Hercules, and retaken by force from Lycus, who had seized her, I. 127. She and her Children are killed by Hercules, ibid. Meleager, the History of him, I. 99. He kills the Calydonian Boar, III. 205. Menades, Figures of them, I. 161. Mendes, a Goat, adored as a God under that Name by the Egyptians, II. 203. Mercury, various Mercurys mentioned by Authors, I. 77. His Offices, and the manner of representing him, I. 78. Some remarkable Images of Mercury, ibid. The Ram and Cock were his Symbols, I. 79. And the Tortoise also in several Monuments, ibid. The History of Mercury Criophorus, I. 80. Mercury in Company with other Gods, ibid. Mercury in a Chariot drawn by two Cocks, I. 81. Mercury's Names, ibid. His Temple at Rome at the Foot of Mount Aventin, and other Temples of him, II. 51. A Sacrifice to Mercury, II. 120. Mercury of the Gauls supposed to be same as the Theutates of Lucan, II. 263. Mercury proved to be the same as Theutates, ibid. Mercury worshipped by the Gauls especially, II. 264. An Inscription of Cissonian Mercury, ibid. Images of Mercury, ibid. Mercury with a Beard, ibid. A great Number of Mercurys of no Sex are to be met with, and were worshipped in some parts of Gaul, II. 265. Other Mercurys, ibid. Mercury opens the Gates of Hell, and conducts the Souls there, V. 98. Lamps of Mercury, V. 147. Meste in Cilicia, a remarkable Ancient Gate near it, III. 113. Mets, a Commissary of that City, II. 55. Some Ancient Buildings there, III. 116. Its magnificent Aqueduct, IV. 128. Metella Cecilia, her Tomb, V. 66. Her Mausoleum, V. 84. Metellus's Baths, III. 131. Minerva, or Pallas, called by the Greeks Pallas Athena, the Ancients mention several of the same Name, I. 84. She was born of her Father's Brain, and how, ibid. She was the inventress of the Art of War and building Houses. Her Symbols, ibid. She was anciently represented sitting. Her Statues, I. 85. Minerva represented after the Greek manner, and several others, ibid. Minerva Polias, a Saying of Demosthenes on this occasion, ibid. Some Busts of Minerva, I. 86. Minerva with Socrates and Plato represented on her Helmer, ibid. The History of Ajax and Cassandra represented on a Seal, I. 87. Minerva with Venus, ibid. Minerva and Diana called the White Virgins, ibid. Divers Minerva's, ibid. Divers Names of Minerva, I. 88. The History of Medusa, ibid.

I N D E X.

- Of the Palladium, I. 89. And of Perseus, ibid.
 The Temple of Minerva Medica, being the Pantheon at Rome, II. 34. Her magnificent Temple at Athens, II. 51. Other Temples of her in Greece, and her Brazen Temple, II. 53. The Temple of *Minerva Ilia*s, and other Temples of her, ibid. A Sacrifice to Minerva, II. 120. Another Sacrifice to her, ibid. Other Sacrifices to her, II. 127. Lamps of Minerva, V. 147.
Mirth, a Goddess, I. 211.
Mistletoe, the Ceremony of the Druids about it, II. 278.
Mithras, the Worship of him had its Origin in Persis, I. 231. Brought to Rome in the time of Pompey, ibid. Mithras born of a Stone, I. 232. Several Shapes of Mithras, ibid. Mithras represented with a Lion's Head, ibid. Some Passages out of Authors proving Mithras was represented after this manner, I. 233. Mithras with a Serpent wreathed round him, another Figure of the same kind, ibid. Why Wings and Keys were attributed to Mithras, I. 234. Another manner of picturing Mithras, represented as a young Man cutting the Throat of a Bull, I. 235. The Great Image of Mithras, ibid. The meaning of the Bull, I. 236. Three Mithras's in the same Image, I. 237. The meaning of the Animals in the Table of Mithras, ibid. An Explanation of the mysterious Border of this Table, taken from Celsus, I. 238. Other Images of Mithras, I. 239. Mithras with the Inscription NAMA SEBESTO, ibid. A singular Image of Mithras and his Symbols taken from a Gem, I. 240. The different Opinions concerning these Symbols, ibid. An extraordinary Mithras from the Justinian Gallery, I. 241. Different Opinions about the Woman with Wings on the Bull, ibid. The Priests of Mithras and their several Names, II. 11. A strict and severe Probation used before initiating into the Mysteries of Mithras, ibid. The Arch-Priests of Mithras, II. 12. Baptism observed in the worship of Mithras, according to Tertullian, II. 226. Mithras adored by the Persians, taken indifferently for the Sun and for Fire, his worship brought into Rome, II. 255.
Mitra, the Venus of the Persians, difficulties about her, II. 251.
Medefty, a Goddess, divided into Patrician and Plebeian, I. 225. Her Images, I. 226. Another of her, but doubtful, ibid.
Money, when they began to Coin Money at Rome, III. 102. Figures of the Silver Money, and its Division, III. 103. The great and small Sestertium, ibid. Silver Money with an Alloy of Brass, ibid. The Silyer Penny's value raised in the Second Punic War, III. 104. Gold Money, when first introduced into Rome, ibid. For other Money, vid. As.
Monoxyli, what they were, IV. 131.
Monsters, I. 252. Extravagant and monstrous Images of several Egyptians Gods, II. 197. Monsters worshipped by the Egyptians, II. 201. Other Monsters reckoned Gods, II. 204.
Monument; an excellent one of Monsieur Foucault, where found, I. 53. A Description of it, ibid. Monsieur de la Boze discovered it represented the Mysteries of Ceres and Bacchus, and made a learned Dissertation upon it, an Abstract of which is inserted here, I. 54. An ingenious explication of the Cover made by the same Person, I. 55. An Essay towards making a new Interpretation of the principal side of this Monument, I. 56. An extraordinary Monument representing the Expiation of Hercules, I. 142. An excellent Monument of Bacchus educated by Silens, I. 145. Singular ones of the Fauni, I. 170. A very remarkable Monument, being a Vow to Hercules named Illumnus, II. 158. A singular Monument of Isis found at Rome, II. 179. A fine Monument found in Spain, with several Egyptian Gods, II. 205. A fine Monument of the Gods of Palmyra, Aglibolus and Malachbelus, II. 247. The Inscription of this Monument, II. 248. Another singular Monument, II. 249. An Explanation of a singular Monument found at Puteoli, of the twelve Cities of Asia destroyed by an Earthquake, III. 122. Monuments of Nuptials, III. 141. The Aldobrandine Nuptials, ibid. Another Monument representing Nuptials, ibid.
 Moon, her Temples, II. 68. The Moon adored as a Goddess by several of the Oriental Nations, and even by the Jews, II. 248. A Moon, worn on the Senators Shoes, III. 37.
 Mountebank of Antioch, a surprising Trick of one, III. 161.
Mulleus, what it was, III. 36. Seems to have covered all the Foot, III. 37.
Mummies, Pictures of them, V. 122. Fields of the Mummies, V. 125. The Sepulchers of Birds Embalmed, V. ibid.
Murcia, the Goddess of Sloath, I. 219.
Murex, what it was, IV. 56.
Murrhina or Myrrhina, Vases called so, III. 88. Whether they were the same with those made of Onyx, III. 89.
Muses, the Origin of them, I. 67. Their Number and different Names, ibid. The Offices and Symbols of each Muse in particular, I. 68. Hercules of the Muses, I. 69. Statues of the nine Muses, and a fine Bass Relief where they are represented, ibid. The nine Muses with Apollo, I. 70. A remarkable Bass Relief of the Muses, with Apollo and Minerva, ibid. Temples of the Muses and Apollo, II. 49.
Mutationes and Mansiones, what they were, IV. 115.
Mutatorium at Rome, what it was, III. 116.
Myaparones a kind of swift Vessels, IV. 140.

N.

- Nabathei, their Funerals, V. 127.
Nenia and Death, Goddesses, I. 231.
 Napkins of the Ancients, III. 72.
Narbonne, the Theatres of it, III. 159.
Narni, its wonderful Bridge, IV. 116.
 Navigation, its Origin, IV. 130. What Authors have wrote about Navigation, ibid.
Naumachia, what it was. Several kinds of Naumachia's, III. 199. That of Domitian, ibid. A Difficulty concerning that Naumachia, III. 200.
Necessity and Force worshipped as Goddesses, I. 219.
 Necklaces, an Ornament put sometimes about the Neck of their Goddesses, III. 34. Given also to Soldiers as a Reward of their Valour, ibid.
 Needles called Discriminales and Crinales, III. 32.
Nehalenja, a Goddess lately found in Zealand, II. 283.
Nemean Games, III. 174.
Nemesis, her Origin and Office, I. 193. A Colossal Statue of Nemesis, and likewise her History, ibid. Figures of Nemesis, I. 194. The Nemeses in the Plural Number, ibid. Other Images of Nemesis, ibid. The Temple of Nemesis, II. 64.
Neocori, their Office was more considerable in the later Ages, II. 5.
Neotora, and Antinous, the Worship of them, II. 205.
Neptune,

INDEX.

Neptune, his Birth and his Actions, I. 40. The different Images of Neptune, I. 41. One of a peculiar kind, and several other Figures of him, ibid. The Form of Neptune Atlanticus, I. 42. Other remarkable Figures of Neptune taken from Marbles and Medals, ibid. The Rape of a Nymph by Neptune, I. 43. The Temple of Neptune, II. 46. A Sacrifice to Neptune, II. 112. A Vow to him for a prosperous Voyage, II. 153. Lamps of Neptune, V. 145.
Nereus and the Nereids, I. 45. Several Images of the Nereids, ibid. Lamps of them, V. 146.
Nero, his Golden House, III. 60.
Night and her Images, I. 227. Pictured with a great Veil bespangled with Stars, ibid. Taken for Diana Luna, ibid. Her Sons, I. 228.
Nile, Symbols of it, III. 119. A Pillar marking the Increase of it, II. 177.
Nimes, the Temple of it called Diana's Temple, thought to have been a Pantheon, II. 33. A Description of the square House at Nimes, proved to have been a Temple, II. 72. The Pantomime of Nimes, III. 56. The Amphitheatre of Nimes, III. 166.
Niobe, the Fable of her, I. 66.
Nobility represented by a human Shape, I. 212.
Noctilinus a God, seems to be the Nocturnal Attis, I. 229.
Nomenclators, what their Office was, V. 55.
Numidae, their Habits, III. 58. A Numidian Horseman, IV. 56.
Nuptials, vide Marriage.
Nymphs and their several sorts, I. 242. The Nymphs of the Waters, as those of the Sea, and others, with their Names, ibid. The Nymphs of the Land, the Oreades, the Dryades, &c. I. 243. The Nymphs of particular Places, ibid. Nymphs dancing, III. 198.
Nyssa, Symbols of it, III. 125.

O.

Oars of Vessels, IV. 170.
Oath, taken by Soldiers before they went to any Battle, IV. 6.
Obelisks, the Hieroglyphicks on them cannot be explain'd, II. 221. The Explanation of the Obelisk in the Circus maximus by Hermaphion, II. 222. It is reputed false, as is also that of Kircher, ibid. The Obelisk of St. John Lateran, II. 223. Other Obelisks, ibid. Obelisk at Autun, IV. 109.
Obrendaria, what they were, V. 29.
Oceanus and Tethys, concerning them, I. 12.
Oceanides, Nymphs called so, I. 45.
Ocea, what it was, III. 40.
Odenatus and Zenobia, Heads of them, III. 47.
Olla, Urns called so, V. 27.
Olympias, Mother of Alexander the Great, was one of the Bacchantes, I. 159.
Olympick Games, III. 173.
Omens of things, II. 167. Omens of Words, ibid. Omens of happy Success in Expeditions by Sea, IV. 175.
Omphale, Hercules gives up his Arms to her, and receives a Spindle in order to spin, I. 141.
Options or Succenturions, IV. 10. The Suboptions, ibid.
Oracle of Jupiter Hammon deliver'd by a Dove, I. 28. Some Oracles were given thro' the Operation of Demons, tho' very few; the much greater number were only an Imposture of the Pagan Priests, II. 160. A great number of Oracles among them, II. 161.

Orange, its Theatre, III. 159. Its Triumphal Arch, IV. 107.
Orations at Funerals, V. 11.
Orbona, one of the pernicious Goddesses, I. 216.
Oreades, Nymphs of the Land, I. 243.
Orgia, Mysteries, and Sacrifices to Bacchus, II. 121 to 125.
Orus, the Son of Iris, II. 185. Taken for the Sun, ibid. His different Images, ibid.
Osiris, according to the Theology of the Egyptians, is the same as all the Gods, II. 172. Osiris, Iris and Orus is the Good Principle, according to the Egyptians, II. 173. Osiris represented after different manners on the Egyptian Monuments, II. 183. Osiris taken for the Sun; several Images of Osiris, ibid. Osiris represented with a Hawk's Head, II. 184.
Ostia, the Port of it, IV. 188. Made by Claudius, IV. 189. Why found on Nero's Medals, ibid.
Ovatio, what it was, IV. 104. The Ceremonies of the Ovation, ibid.
Ounce, whether the old Roman Ounce was heavier than the present Roman Ounce, III. 97.

P.

Palaces, the fine Palaces of Rome, III. 60. Ruins of the Emperor's Palaces, III. 116.
Pallas, vide Minerva.
Palla, what it was, III. 23.
Palladium, concerning it, I. 89.
Pallium, vide Habit.
Paleness, a Deity, I. 216.
Palliolam and Phelone, what they were, III. 10.
Palmyra, a fine Monument of the Gods of Palmyra, Aglibolus and Malachbelus, II. 247. The magnificent Ruins of the ancient Palmyra, III. 117.
Paludati, the Emperor Trajan and several others, in that Dress, III. 20.
Paludamentum, what it was, IV. 28.
Pancratium and Pentathlus, what they were, III. 186.
Pan, Mythologists differ about his Origin, I. 170.
Pan in Love with Echo, and after with Syrinx, I. 171. Images of Pan, ibid. The Temple of Pan, II. 62.
Pannonia, Symbols of it, III. 121.
Panthean Figures, concerning them, I. 244. Several Images of this kind, ibid. Why the Ancients made these sort of Figures, I. 245.
Pantheon at Rome, called the Temple of Minerva Medica, II. 34. The great Pantheon at Rome called the Rotunda, ibid.
Panther, the hunting of it, III. 206.
Pantomime of Nimes, III. 56.
Paper: the Papers used for writing; the Parchment, III. 221. Other sorts of Paper, ibid. The Papyrus of Egypt, ibid. The Diploma's and Books of this Paper which now remain, III. 222. The Origin of the Charta Bombycina, and of the modern Paper, III. 223.
Papremis, the bloody Solemnities there, II. 219.
Papirius Prætextatus, the History of him, III. 18.
Paragauda, what it was, III. 20.
Parasyti, subordinate Ministers at Athens, II. 5.
Parazenum, IV. 39.
Parcae, or Fates, V. 96.
Paris, his Judgment, I. 106.
Paris, the Thermae at that City, III. 135.
Parlour, a singular one for eating, III. 85.
Parma, a kind of Shield, IV. 32.
Parthians their Habit like that of the Daci, III. 49. A fine Head of a Parthian King, III. 50. Some Differences in the Ornaments of the Heads of

INDEX.

- of the Parthian Kings, ibid. The Parthian Kings wore the like Tiara's with those of the Kings of Armenia, ibid. The Figure of a Parthian Horseman, IV. 51.
- Pater Patratus*, the meaning of it, II. 24.
- Pateræ*, their true Figure, II. 89. Pateræ taken from several Cabinets, ibid. Several that have been published for Pateræ proved not to be such, II. 90. M. Beger's Opinion on that Point, II. 91.
- Paulus Emilius*, who conquer'd Macedon, his Triumph, IV. 99.
- Peace*, a Goddess, I. 212. Her magnificent Temple at Rome, II. 66.
- Pegasus*, the Story of him, I. 71. Lamps of him, V.
- Pegmata*, Machines belonging to Theatres, III. 164.
- Peleus's Marriage*, and the Apple of Discord, I. 106.
- Pelta*, a kind of Shield, IV. 32.
- Pens and Quills for writing, III. 223.
- Penates* taken often for the Lares, I. 204. The Trojan Penates, ibid. Their Images, I. 205. The Gods of the first Rank sometimes reckoned and honoured as Penates, ibid.
- Pentheus* killed by the Menades, I. 161.
- Penula*, what it was, III. 24.
- Peripteres*, a kind of Temples, II. 31.
- Perones*, what they were, III. 37.
- Persepolis*, Images of it, taken from Chardin's Travels, II. 255.
- Perseus*, the History of him, I. 89. His Temples, II. 79.
- Persians* and Medes, their Gods from Herodotus and Strabo, II. 250. The Sacrifices of the Persians, according to Herodotus, II. 251. A modern Author refuted for asserting the ancient Persians were of the true Religion, ibid. Passages out of Authors concerning the Religion of the Persians, II. 252. Celsus's Account of the Mysteries of the Persians, II. 253. A Passage of Diogenes Laertius, ibid. ~~Zoroaster, according to Plutarch,~~ admitted two Principles, II. 254. Mithras adored by the Persians, taken indifferently for the Sun and Fire; his Worship brought into Rome, II. 255. Images of Persepolis taken from Chardin's Travels, ibid. The Habit of the ancient Persians, III. 48. The Cavalry of the Persians, IV. 51. A Sea-fight between the Persians and Greeks at Salamis, IV. 177. Funerals of the Persians, V. 127.
- Petasus* and other Figures resembling Hats, III. 22.
- Petauriste*, what they were, III. 161.
- Phaeton*, the Fable of him, I. 74. Phaeton's Sister's turned into Poplars or Larices, I. 75.
- Phæcasium*, what it was, III. 38.
- Phalanges*, IV. 74. The Macedonian Phalanx, ibid.
- Phalaris*, his brazen Bull, V. 163.
- Phenicians* and Syrians, their Gods. What the Theraphim of Laban were, II. 243. Other Deities of that Country, ibid. The God Dagon, II. 244. Different Opinions about him, ibid. The Genealogy of the Gods, according to Sanchuniathon and Phylo Byblius, II. 245. Whether there ever were such Authors, ibid. Who Astarte, Goddess of the Phenicians, was; esteem'd to be Venus Byblia, II. 246. Images of her, ibid. Symbols of Phenicia, III. 126.
- Phenix*, a Bird, the History of it, I. 252.
- Pheretime*, Queen to Battus, King of Cyrene, their Heads, III. 47.
- Phorcys*, one of the Sea Gods, I. 44.
- Phrygians*, their Habit, III. 52.
- Piety, deified, I. 221. Represented by a Stork, ibid. Expressed by Symbols, II. 222.
- Pilarii*, what they were, V. 44.
- Pile*, the Shape of the Funeral Pile, V. 13.
- Pilani*, the same as the Triarii, a Class of the Roman Soldiers, IV. 8.
- Pileus*, and other Caps, III. 22.
- Pillars erected by Hercules, and called afterwards by his Name, I. 131. A Pillar marking the increase of the Nile, II. 177. Trajan's Pillar, and the true reading of the Inscription, IV. 109. Antoninus's Pillar, ibid. The Obelisk at Autun, ibid. The Columna Rostrata or Pillar of Duilius, IV. 110. The Trajan and Antonine Pillars were a kind of Mausolea, V. 83.
- Pilum*, what it was, IV. 40.
- Pinarii*, who they were, II. 24.
- Pisa*, the Baths of it, 131.
- Placentæ*, or the Cakes of the Ancients, III. 76.
- Plancus Munatius*; his Mausoleum, V. 84.
- Plato and Socrates represented on Minerva's Helmet, I. 86. Plato's Sentiment of Hell, V. 92.
- Plaistrum*, the Figure of it, IV. 123.
- Plautii*, their Mausoleum, V. 84.
- Plautus's Account* of Womens Cloaths explained by Nonius Marcellus, III. 24.
- Pleasure and Virtue present themselves to Hercules when a Youth under the form of two Women, he chuses Virtue, I. 125.
- Plenty, a Goddess, I. 210.
- Plotina*, Wife of the Emperor Trajan, her Dress, III. 25.
- Pluto*, his Origin, I. 47. Images of him, I. 48. The Rape of Proserpine, ibid. A fine Bas Relief, I. 49. A very remarkable Image published by Alexander, I. 50. Other Figures, I. 51. Images of Proserpine, ibid. Pluto's Temples, II. 47. Proserpine's Temple, ibid. Pluto and Proserpine, Gods of Hell, V. 93.
- Podium*, part of a Theatre, III. 163.
- Pola*, the Theatre of it, III. 157. The Amphitheatre of it, III. 165.
- Pollux*. Vide Castor.
- Pomona*, a Goddess, I. 178. Surprised by Vertumnus, I. 176.
- Pompey's Theatre, III. 157.
- Pontifex Maximus*, or Sovereign Pontiff, his Dignity and Election, II. 13.
- Poppea*, Wife of Nero, her Baths, III. 132.
- Ports of the Ancients, IV. 187. Their method of making them, IV. 188. The Arch of the Port of Ancona, ibid. The Port of Ostia, ibid. Made by Claudius, IV. 189. Why found on Nero's Medals, ibid.
- Portunus*, or Portumnus, a Sea God, I. 44.
- Potitii*, who they were, II. 24.
- Præcinctiones*, Parts of a Theatre, III. 149.
- Præfericulum*, a Vessel used at Sacrifices, its Form, II. 88.
- Præstigiae*, some singular ones, II. 166. Others, ibid.
- Prætexta Toga*. Vide Habit.
- Prætorian Camp* at Rome, IV. 83.
- Preneste*, a remarkable Temple of Fortune, there, II. 65.
- Priapus*, his Origin, I. 174. He was the God and Guardian of Orchards, ibid. His different Images, I. 175. An Ass sacrificed to him, ibid. A Lamp representing a Sacrifice to Priapus, V. 152.
- Priests. Concerning the Priests of the Greeks, and those who had a right to sacrifice, II. 3. The Laws of the Priests of Athens, II. 4. The Priests of other Countries in Greece, ibid. Of the subordinate Ministers at Athens called Parasyti and Ceryces, II. 5. The Office of the Neocori was more considerable in the later Ages, ibid. The Athenian Archontes exercised the Sacerdotal Function, ibid. Who the King and Queen of sacred Things at Athens were, II. 6. Some Particularities about the Ceryces, ibid. The Herophante at Athens, ibid. Various Names of the Priests and Priestesses, in several Cities of Greece, II. 7. The Archpriests and Archpriestesses of the Greeks, ibid. The History and Office of the Pythian at Delphos, ibid. The Priests of the Greeks in the later Ages, ibid. The Priests and Priestesses of Cybele among the Greeks and Romans, and the Galli, Eunuchs. II. 8. The Priests of Mithras, and their several Names, II. 12. A strict and severe Probation used before initiating into the Mysteries of Mithras, ibid. The Archpriests of Mithras, ibid. The Origin of the Priesthood at Rome, ibid. The Privileges of the Priests, II. 13. The Dignity of the Sovereign Pontiff, or Pontifex Maximus, and his Election, ibid. The Flamines, another kind of Priesthood, II. 14. The Laws of the Flamen Dialis, ibid. Other Flamines and Flaminice, II. 15. The Augurs, their Institution and Privileges, II. 16. The manner of making the Augury, II. 17. Publicus Augurum, who he was, V. 55. The Haruspices and their Office, II. 17. The Sybils and their Books, II. 18. The Name, Number and Country of these Prophetesses, ibid. Their Books were bought by Tarquin and placed in the Custody of the Duumviri, and afterwards of the Decemviri, II. 19. The Vestals more ancient than Rome, their Number, II. 20. Of what Condition they ought to be, ibid. Their Function, ibid. They kept the sacred Fire and other Things, II. 21. The Privileges of the Vestals, ibid. The Punishments of them who did not keep their Virginity, ibid. The Salii, Priests of Mars, and their Function, II. 22. Other Salii, ibid. The Feciales, who declared War or Peace, II. 23. The meaning of Pater Patratus, II. 24. The Office of the Brothers Arvales, ibid. The Luperci, ibid. The Pinarii, Potitii, ibid. The Dignity of the Rex Sacrificulus, II. 25. The Habit of the Priests, ibid. What the Albogalerus and the Apex were, ibid. The Priests sacrificed often with their Heads veiled, and the reason of it, II. 26. The Sacrificulus Narbonensis, ibid. The Habits of the Salii of Mars, ibid. Other Priests or Sacrificers, ibid. The great Priestess of Cybele, II. 27. Junia Torquata, Priestess of Vesta, ibid. Other Priests and Priestesses, ibid. The Septemviri Epulones, II. 28. The strange Institution of the Priest of Diana Aricina, ibid. The Habits and manner of living of the Egyptian Priests, II. 217. Images of the Egyptian Priests, II. 219. The most remarkable Priest of all, ibid.

I N D E X

Principes, one of the Classes of the Soldiers among the Romans, IV. 7.

Processions, or Pomps of Iiss, II. 181. Other Processions, II. 182. Roman Processions, III. 187. The triumphal Procession of Antiochus Epiphanes King of Syria, III. 190. The triumphal Procession of Ptolemy Philadelphus, King of Egypt, III. 191.

Prometheus, concerning him, I. 14. He is freed by Hercules, I. 134. Lamps of Prometheus, V. 145.

Prostyles, a kind of Temples, II. 32.

Proscenium, Part of a Theatre, III. 149.

Proserpine, vide Pluto.

Proteus, one of the Sea Gods, I. 44.

Providence, a Goddess, I. 213.

Prusias, an Image of him and his Wife, III. 7.

Pseudodipteres, a kind of Temples, II. 31.

VOL. V.

Psyche, the Fable of her, I. 113. Her Marriage with Cupid, I. 114. She burns his Shoulder, and Cupid forsakes her, ibid. Psyche brought into Venus's Power, tormented by her and sent to Hell, I. 115. Psyche lifted up to Heaven and married to Cupid, I. 116. The Allegory of this Fable, ibid. Psyche represented with Butterflies Wings. Her Marriage with Cupid, I. 117. Cupid and Psyche riding on Centaurs, ibid. Other Figures of the Marriage of Cupid and Psyche, ibid. Cupid torments Psyche; this is an Allegory, and means the Soul, I. 118.

Ptolemy Philadelphus, King of Egypt, his triumphal Procession, III. 191.

Ptolemy Euergetes, an Image of him in a Military Habit, taken from two MSS. IV. 12.

Ptolemy Philopater, his great Ship with forty Ranges of Oars, IV. 161. The Thalamagus, a great Ship built by him for sailing on the Nile, IV. 162. The Sea-fight between Ptolemy and Demetrius, wherein the last was Conqueror, IV. 179.

Publicus Augurum, who he was, V. 55.

Pullata Vestis, or black Habit, III. 16.

Pulpitum, part of a Theatre, III. 150.

Pulvinaria, what they were, II. 150.

Punishments of Hell, their Description, V. 100. Other Punishments, vide Criminals.

Puteoli, an Explanation of a singular Monument found there, of the twelve Cities of Asia destroyed by an Earthquake, III. 122. The Amphitheatre of Puteoli, III. 165. The Grotto of Puteoli, or a Way cut thro' a Mountain, IV. 115. Another Way like it, under the Capitol at Rome, ibid. That which is taken for Caligula's Bridge at Puteoli, is a quite different thing, IV. 117.

Pycnostiles, a kind of Temples, II. 32.

Pygmies, Hercules's Battle with them, I. 133.

Pyramid of Cestius, V. 82. Pyramids of Egypt, a Description of them, V. 122. The Walks and Chambers of the great Pyramid. The Dimensions of the Pyramids, ibid. The Sphinx by the Pyramids, V. 125. Other Pyramids, V. 126.

Pyrrhus, a Statue of him in a military Habit, IV. 11.

Pyrrhic Dance, III. 197.

Pythian Games, III. 174.

Q.

Quacks, III. 160.

Quadrigæ, Chariots with four Horses a-breast, III. 178.

Quadrivius Janus, I. 19.

Queen and King of sacred Things at Athens, II. 6.

Quietorium, an Urn called so, V. 44.

Quinqueviri of Hell, V. 114.

Quivers, IV. 44.

R.

Races in the Circus, III. 178. The Bigæ, Trigæ, Quadrigæ and Sejuges, or Chariots with two, three, four or six Horses a-breast, ibid. Elephants and Camels made to draw Chariots, III. 179. Images of the Races in the Circus, III. 180. Other Images, ibid. Some remarkable Particulars about the Races in the Circus, III. 182. They who ran in the Circus sometimes dressed with Wings like Cupids, III. 183. A Difficulty about the Races of the Circus, ibid. The Race a-foot, III. 184. Vide Circus.

Ramparts raised on the Sides of Ships, IV. 168.

Reins, whether the Ancients used any, IV. 46.

Rex Sacrificulus, his Dignity, II. 25.

Rhea, the manner of her saying Jupiter, I. 20.

Rhine,

A a a

I N D E X.

Rhine, Caesar's Bridge over it, IV. 119.

Riding, vide Horseman.

Rings and their several Names, III. 143. The Materials of which they were made, III. 144. The Stones usually set in Rings, ibid. Who were allowed to wear Gold Rings, ibid. On what Fingers they wore their Rings, ibid. Rings with Charms, III. 145. Seal Rings, ibid. Figures of the Rings, ibid. What they used to seal with, ibid.

Rome, worshipped as a Goddess, not only at Rome, but also in other Cities, I. 185. Represented like Minerva, in several Images, ibid. Some singular Images of Rome, ibid. Several Images expressing the Origin of Rome, I. 186. Rome triumphant, ibid. Temples of Rome the Goddess, II. 63. The fine Palaces of Rome, III. 60. Symbols of Rome, III. 118. The Amphitheatres of Rome, III. 164. The Origin and Description of the great Circus at Rome, III. 175. The Bridges of Rome, IV. 116. The Aqueducts of Rome a magnificent Work, after what manner they were made, IV. 126. The Common Sewers of Rome, IV. 129.

Roman Emperors, their Consecrations and Apotheoses, V. 102.

Romulus, the Son of Mars, I. 76.

Rope-dancers and the Petauristæ, III. 161.

Rorulum of the Prow, one of the principal offensive Arms of Ships, IV. 167.

Rotunda, the great Pantheon at Rome called so, II. 34.

Rowers, they were covered during a Fight, IV. 168. What kind of Beds they had, IV. 170. Whether they did their Business naked, or had Cloaths on, IV. 172. How they were exercised, IV. 174.

Rumina, or Rumilia, a Goddess, I. 207.

8.

Sabina, Wife of the Emperor Hadrian, a Figure of her Dress, III. 25.

Sacrifices of the Gentiles, II. 94. Distinguished into Bloody and Unbloody, II. 95. Human Victims among the Greeks and Romans, ibid. Ceremonies used at Sacrifices, ibid. Different Names of the Victims, ibid. The Custom of burning the whole Victim altered, II. 96. Laws concerning Sacrifices, ibid. Victims according to the Quality and Condition of those that sacrificed, II. 97. An Enumeration of the Animals and other things which the Heathens offered in Sacrifice, ibid. The Difference of the Victims with regard to the Gods, II. 98. What Victims were offered to each God in particular, ibid. The Preparation of the Priests for the Sacrifice, II. 100. The great Reverence that was paid by all who were present, ibid. The Priests sacrificed sometimes with their Heads veiled, and why, II. 101. Playing on the Pipe and other Instruments used at Sacrifices, ibid. The Ceremonies and Prayers used by the Priests at sacrificing, and the manner of killing the Victim, ibid. The Inspection of the Entrails of the Victim to see whether the Sacrifice foreboded Good or Ill-Luck, II. 102. The lucky Sacrifice expressed by the Word Litare, ibid. The Dissection of the Victim; the Meaning of the Proverb inter Cæsa & Porrecta, ibid. A Repast made of the rest of the Victim, II. 103. The Marbles do not always agree with Writers concerning the Ceremonies of Sacrifices, ibid. The great Sacrifice of four Bulls, made by Trajan, where there are five Altars, ibid. Another Sacrifice of the same Emperor with four Bulls, with two Altars, II. 104. Another Sacrifice by the same, where we observe a Pineapple on the Altar, ibid. Variety of Musical Instruments at the Sacrifices, II. 105. The Sacrifice at Narbonne, ibid. The Sacrifice on the Arrival of the Emperor, ibid. Other Sacrifices, ibid. The Taurobolia of the Great Mother Cybele, in use chiefly among the Gauls, II. 106. Offered also to Attis, ibid. The Ceremony of the Taurobolia described by Prudentius, II. 107. There were also the Criobolia and the Egibolia, ibid. The Regeneration of the Taurobolia, and some other Particulars, ibid. The great Taurobolium found at Lyons, and its Explanation, II. 108. The meaning of that Phrase, Vires Tauri exceptit, II. 109. A Sacrifice to Jupiter Hammon, II. 110. Another to Cybele, ibid. Other Sacrifices, II. 111. Sacrifices to Neptune or other Sea Gods, II. 112. A Sacrifice to Ceres, II. 113. Another to the same Goddess on a fine Vase belonging to the Duke of Brunswick, ibid. Another Sacrifice to Ceres, II. 115. A Sacrifice to Apollo, II. 116. Others to the same God, ibid. A fine Sacrifice to Apollo taken from a Bass Relief of Trajan, ibid. The Sacrifices to Mars, called Suovetaurilia; the Etymology of that Word, II. 117. The Suovetaurilia divided into the greater and less, ibid. A Bass Relief at Narbonne, II. 118. Other Figures of the Suovetaurilia, ibid. Another Sacrifice to Mars, II. 119. A Sacrifice to Mercury, II. 120. A Sacrifice to Minerva, ibid. Another Sacrifice to Minerva, ibid. A Sacrifice to Diana, ibid. Iphigenia going to be sacrificed to Diana, II. 121. Several magnificent Orgia, Mysteries and Sacrifices to Bacchus, ibid. A Sacrifice to Bacchus, on Occasion of which, the Feasts called Apaturia are treated of, II. 125. Another Sacrifice, ibid. Another to Hercules, II. 126. Sacrifices to Silvanus, ibid. To Minerva, to Esculapius, and to other Gods, II. 127. The Hecatombs, and upon what Occasion they were made, II. 128. The Chiliombe, II. 129. The Manner of the Egyptian Priests examining the Victims, II. 217. Their Ceremonies at Sacrifices, ibid. Other Ceremonies, II. 218. The bloody Solemnity at Papremis, II. 219. Sacrifices made before Expeditions by Sea, IV. 175.

Sacrificulus Rex, his Dignity, II. 25. Sacrificulus Narbonensis, II. 26.

Safety, a Goddess, I. 214.

Sagum. The shape of the Gaulish Sagum, III. 14.

Saguntum, a description of its Theatre, III. 151.

Sails of Vessels, IV. 170.

Salii, Priests of Mars and their Functions, II. 22.

Other Salii, ibid. Habit of the Salii, II. 26.

Salonina, Wife of the Emperor Galienus, Figure of her Dress, III. 25.

Sandals, very singular ones of some Greeks, III. 35.

Those of the Greeks and Romans were very near the same, ibid. The Division of them into two sorts, III. 36. Great difficulties about the Sandals of the Roman Senators, and those of Julius Cæsar, ibid. Sandalium, what it was, III. 39.

Sandapilæ, what they were, V. 7.

Saracens, or Arabian Scenitæ, their Habit and Arms, IV. 20. The Habit of the Saracen Horsemen, IV. 56.

Sarcophagi. Vide Tombs.

Sarissa, what it was, IV. 42.

Sarmatians, Auxiliary Troops of the Romans, Figures of them, IV. 22 and 70. The singular military

I N D E X.

- ilitary Habit of the Sarmatian Horsemen, IV. 53. A fine passage of Pausanias upon this Subject, ibid. They used Bone instead of Iron to point their Spears with, ibid. Another passage of Ammianus Marcellinus upon the military Habit of the Sarmatians, ibid. The Sarmatian Cavalry Auxiliaries of the Daci, IV. 69.
- Saturn, the Son of Cœlus and Terra, I. 11. The Justice and Equity of his Government, ibid. His War with Jupiter, I. 20. His Temple, II. 38. The Carthaginians sacrificed their Children to him, II. 281.
- Satyri, Sileni, Fanni, Pans and Silvani, often taken for one another, I. 165. Satyrs sometimes pictured with a Beard, sometimes without, I. 166. Some singular Pictures of Satyrs, ibid. Other Satyrs, I. 167. The Satyrs Dance was called Sicinnis, I. 169. Lamps of Satyrs, V. 149. Several Lamps in the Shape of a Satyr, V. 152.
- Sauces of the Ancients, III. 77.
- Saws used in Punishments, V. 162.
- Scala, a Punishment, V. 161.
- Scapula, a Punishment among the Persians, V.
162.
- Scrabens, or the Beetle, adored by the Egyptians, II.
204. The Abrazas of the Beetle, II. 230. The great veneration of the Basilidians for the Beetle,
II. 231.
- Sciadion of the Greeks, the form of it, III. 21.
- Scena, what it was, III. 150. The three Scenes, the Tragic, Comic and Satyric, according to Serlio, ibid.
- Scipio, a Shield representing his Continence; this Story related by Polybius, IV. 35. Delivered more at large by Livy, ibid. Remarks on this Shield, IV. 36. The Pummel of Scipio's Sword published here not certainly Antique, IV. 40.
- Scipio Asiaticus, his Battle with Antiochus King of Syria, and the Victory of Scipio and the Roman Army, IV. 76.
- Scrinia, the form of them, III. 19. Scrinia used by Boys, III. 225.
- Scutulata Vestis, Sagum and Subarmalis, Vestis, what they were, III. 20.
- Scylla, the History of her, I. 252.
- Scytala of the Lacedemonians, what it was, IV.
60.
- Scythians, their Gods, II. 257. They worshipped Mars peculiarly, ibid. Their Habit, III. 52. The Figure of a Scythian, IV. 23. The Cavalry of the Scythians, IV. 52. The Figure of a Scythian Horse Officer, ibid. The Cars of the Scythian Princes, IV. 125. The Bloody Funerals of the Scythian Kings, V. 128. And of some particular Scythians, V. 129.
- Seals. What they used to Seal with, III. 145. Seals used for Sealing great Earthen Vessels, III. 146. Images of these Seals, ibid. Other large round Seals, III. 147. A singular Seal which served two Merchants, ibid. Seals annexed to Diploma's, ibid.
- Seamen, what kind of Beds the Rowers and Ships Crew had, IV. 170. Whether the Seamen and Rowers did their Business naked, or had Cloaths on, IV. 172. The military Habit and Arms of the Seamen, IV. 173. The Trumpets and Shouts of the Seamen, IV. 174. How the Greeks and Romans exercised their Seamen, Rowers and Marines, ibid. The Omens of happy success in their Expeditions; the Sacrifices, IV. 175. The disposition for Battle, ibid. The order of Battle, ibid. Other Presages observed before the Battle, IV. 176. A Sea-fight, IV. 176. The manner of Boarding Ships,
- ibid.* The Sea-fight at Salamis between the Persians and Greeks, where the Greeks conquered, IV. 177. The Sea-fight between Ptolemy and Demetrius, where the last Conquered, IV. 179. The Sea-fight between the Carthaginians commanded by Adherbal, and the Romans, and the Victory of the Carthaginians, IV. 182. The Sea-fight of the Romans, commanded by Lutatius, against the Carthaginians, and the Victory of the Romans, IV. 183. A Sea-fight of the Romans represented in Bass Reliefs where the Ships have Towers, IV. 185.
- Secespita, instruments used about Victims, II. 93.
- Segovia, its Aqueduct remarkable for the wonderful height of its Arches, IV. 129.
- Sejuges, or Chariots with six Horses a-breast, III.
178.
- Selago, an Herb, the Ceremony of the Druids about it, II. 278.
- Semele with Child of Bacchus, burnt before she was delivered of him, I. 144. A Figure of Semele, I. 158.
- Senators, Images of several in their Gowns, III.
19.
- Seneca's last Bath, III. 136.
- Septemviri Epulones, II. 28.
- Septizonium of Severus, V. 81.
- Sepulchres. Fines laid on them who invaded or violated Sepulchers, V. 24. Curses on the Violators of Sepulchres, V. 25. Grave Stones called Altars, V. 26. A remarkable Sepulchre of the Domesticks of Sextus Pompeius, V. 35. The Sepulchre and Columbaria of the Officers of the Emperor, ibid. The Sepulchre of the Furian Family, V. 36. The Sepulchre and Epitaph of the two Ajax's, Father and Son, V. 47. Cypress by Sepulchres, ibid. The Sepulchral Stone called an Altar, V. 51. Sepulchres dedicated or consecrated sub ascia, or under the Ax, V. 71. Spaces of Ground for the Burial of Families or particular Persons specified in Epitaphs, V. 73. A discovery of Sepulchres, and a large piece of Ground set a-part for the Burial of the Cæsarian Family, ibid. A Freed Man stiled a Roman Knight, Pontifex and Scribe of the Ediles in an Epitaph, V. 74. Observations on the Dimensions of Burial Places, V. 76. A description of some singular Bass Reliefs of a Sepulchre, V. 99. The Sepulchres of Birds embalmed, V. 125. A Sepulchre found in the Diocese of Macon, V. 131. A remarkable Sepulchre of the Gauls, and some other Barbarians found in the Diocese of Evreux, V. 132. A Letter concerning the Burials of the Northern Nations, V. 134.
- Serapis, taken for the Sun, for Jupiter, and for Pluto, II. 186. The worship of him not introduced into Egypt, till about the time of the Ptolemys, ibid. Proofs of this taken from several Authors, and from the Table of Iris, II. 187. Mr. Caper is of a different Opinion, ibid. The Argument he offers, not sufficient, ibid. The Etymology of the Word Serapis, II. 188. Images of Serapis, ibid. Represented like Pluto, ibid. Serapis with Iris, II. 189. Other Images, ibid. Serapis esteemed one of the Gods of Health, ibid. Abrazas with the Figure or Name of Serapis, II. 230. Lamps of Serapis, V. 144.
- Serpents. The Egyptian Gods with Serpents Tails, II. 207. A golden Plate where they are represented, ibid. A Ceremony of the Druids about Serpents Eggs, II. 279.
- Sertorius, the Trophy before the Deer of Sertorius, IV. 95.
- Sestertium, the great and small one, III. 103.

INDEX.

Sette Sale, or the seven Courts, what they were, III. 115.
Severus, his Arch, a Question concerning it, IV. 107. Alexander Severus's Urn, V. 35. A fine Ornamented Tomb of him, V. 66. The Septizonium of Severus, V. 81.
Sewers. The Common Sewers of Rome, IV. 129.
Sextarius Urbanus and Castrensis, a measure of Liquids, III. 97.
Shields, and their different sorts, IV. 28. The Shield of Achilles, IV. 29. The shape of two Shields, ibid. The Macedonian Shields very much esteemed, IV. 30. The Argyrapides, ibid. Some remarkable Shields, ibid. The concave Shield of the Romans useful for several purposes, ibid. Another sort of Roman Shields of an Oval Figure, IV. 31. Bras Shields, ibid. Shields of several Nations, ibid. What the Parma was; a kind of Shield, IV. 32. And the Pelta, another sort used by several Nations, ibid. The Cetra the same as the Pelta, IV. 33. The Ancilia and their History, ibid. Images of the Ancilia, IV. 34. The Gerra a sort of Shield, ibid. A remarkable Shield of the Gauls, ibid. The Shape of the Roman Shield called Clipeus, ibid. A singular Shield of Asdrubal, IV. 35. A Shield of Scipio representing his Continence, this Story related by Polybius, ibid. Delivered more at large by Livy, ibid. Remarks upon this Shield, IV. 36. The Clipei Votivi of Augustus, ibid. Those of Tiberius, ibid.
Ships. The sides of Vessels made anciently of Osier Twigs worked together, IV. 132. Whether there ever were any Vessels made of Hides of Beasts only, ibid. Barks made of Shells and Tiles by the Egyptians, ibid. Others of the same People, made of the Leaves of their Papyrus, ibid. Some singular Barks made by the Indians with Cane only, IV. 132. Vessels that could be folded up, IV. 133. The sorts of Timber used by the Ancients for the building of Ships, IV. 134. The manner of joining the Beam and Planks, ibid. Stuppa or Tow thrust between the Joints and Crevices; with what they used to dawb their Vessels over with, IV. 135. The principal parts of a Ship; the Carina or Hulk of the Vessel, divided into three Parts or Decks one above another, ibid. The Prow and the Rostrum terminated it at one end, IV. 136. Images of the Prows, ibid. What the Aplustre was, IV. 137. A Vessel or Ship of Aurora, ibid. The Stern, ibid. The division of Vessels into Ships of War and Ships of Burthen, into long Vessels and round Vessels, IV. 138. The division of long Vessels into light Vessels, and others only long, ibid. Vessels that were the Medium between the long and the round, ibid. Open Vessels and those stiled Cataphracte. Images of open Vessels, IV. 139. The Lembi, ibid. The Swift Myaparones, IV. 140. The Liburnæ, ibid. The Skiffs tyed to large Vessels, IV. 141. Light Vessels of the largest size, ibid. Light Vessels used for War, ibid. Called Aphractæ, IV. 142. Vessels of several Ranges of Oars one above another, called Biremes, Triremes, &c. ibid. A dispute concerning Vessels of several Ranges of Oars, ibid. These Ranges proved to be one above another, IV. 143. The Testimonies of several Authors; of Lucan, Silius Italicus, and the Scholiast of Aristophanes, ibid. Of Thucydides, Appian and Polybius, ibid. Of Pausanias, Mennon, Pollux, Arrian and Virgil, IV. 144. Another Scholiast of Aristophanes confuted who had never seen any Triremes, IV. 145. There were no Triremes in the time of Zozimus the Historian, ibid. An answer to them who assert the impossibility of there being one Range of Oars above another, IV. 146. The Vessels of King Demetrius of sixteen Ranges of Oars not understood by those who saw them, ibid. The Ranges of Oars were not placed one perpendicularly over another, ibid. The System of Scheffer and Palmerius, who admit Ranges of Oars one over another, quoted and confuted by M. Fabretti, IV. 147. M. Fabretti's System for sixteen Ranges of Oars, ibid. Difficulties in this System, IV. 149. Unwieldy Vessels, and those which exceeded five Ranges of Oars, esteemed of none, or very little use by the Ancients, IV. 149. Whether the Ancients placed above one Man to each Oar, even in the largest Vessels. Scaliger's Opinion confuted, IV. 150. That of M. Fabretti more plausible, IV. 151. The Biremes and Triremes had but one Man to an Oar, IV. 152. What Vessels with several Ranges of Oars, were of a proper and convenient size according to Vegetius, ibid. The Biremes distinguished into two sorts, the greater and the less, IV. 153. The Origin of the Biremes, ibid. The Biremes called Bicrota by Ciceron, ibid. Images of Biremes in Trajan's Pillar, IV. 154. Three Rostrums belonging to the same Prow, ibid. Biremes represented on Medals, ibid. Other Images of Biremes, IV. 155. The Cheniscus placed on the Poop of Vessels, ibid. What the Tropis was, IV. 156. Triremes, and their Origin, ibid. Triremes taken for Vessels of War in general, ibid. An Image of a Triremis on Trajan's Pillar, IV. 157. The Liburnæ according to Vegetius, ibid. He seems to assert that the Liburnæ were different from the Triremes, IV. 158. Inscriptions which mention Trirees or Triremes and their Names, the Liburnæ and their Names, ibid. The distinction between those Gods which were called Tutela, and those which gave their Names to the Vessels, ibid. What the Epotides of Vessels were, IV. 160. A passage of Pliny concerning the Inventors of Vessels, with several Ranges of Oars, ibid. Pliny disagrees with other Authors, IV. 161. After Augustus's time they never used any Vessels with above three Ranges of Oars, ibid. The great Ship of Ptolemy Philopator with forty Ranges of Oars, ibid. The Thalamagrus, a great Ship built by Ptolemy Philopator for sailing on the Nile, IV. 162. A great Ship built by Hiero King of Syracuse, under the direction of Archimedes, IV. 164. The Rostrum of the Prow one of the principal offensive Arms of the Ship, IV. 167. Ramparts raised on the sides of the Ships, IV. 168. The Rowers covered during the Fight, ibid. Towers raised on the Ships: a Passage of Vegetius, ibid. In what Part of the Ship the Towers were placed, IV. 169. These Towers erected only during a Fight, according to Servius, ibid. The Dolphin, an Engine of War used on Ship-board, IV. 170. The battering Ram and other Warlike Engines of Ships, IV. 173. The Oars, IV. 170. The Sails, ibid. The Steeridge, IV. 171. The Anchors, ibid. The Plummet, ibid. The Pictures on the Ships, IV. 172. The military Ensigns and Signals of Vessels, IV. 173.

Shirts and Linnen, whether the Ancients used any, III. 4.

Shoes, a great number of them explained, III. 42. The Shoes of the Barbarians and others, ibid. Shoes published by Bonanni, ibid.

Sicily, Six Heads of its Kings, and Tyrants, III. 47. Symbols of Sicily, and its Cities, III. 120.

Sicinnis,

I N D E X.

- Sicinnis, the Satyrs Dance, I. 169.*
Sicyonia, a kind of Shoe, III. 39.
*Silenus, his Form and Stature, I. 167. He is surprised at a Fountain, ibid. Images of him, *ibid.
Lamps of him, V. 150.
*Silvanus, his Origin, he is taken both for Pan and Faunus, I. 172. Represented in two different ways, ibid. Images of Silvanus in a human Figure, I. 173. Images of Silvanus in the form of Pan, ibid. Temples of him, II. 62. Sacrifices to him, II. 126.*
*Silver Money, vide Money.*
Simpulum, a little Vessel for sacred uses, II. 91. A dispute about the Simpulum, III. 135.
*Singulares Equites, a Figure of one of these Horsemen, V. 59. An Epitaph of one of them, ibid. Their Burial Place, V. 64.*
Sirens, their Origin and History, I. 245. A proof that they had the Head of a Woman and Body of a Bird, and not of a Fish, I. 246. The several manners of representing them with a Bird's Body, I. 247. Images of the Sirens, I. 248. Different Opinions about some Images, I. 249. Beger refuted for mistaking a Siren for a Harpy, I. 250. And M. Spanheim, who gives the Stympalides a Woman's Head, I. 251.
Sistrums of Isis, their description, II. 182.
Skiffs tyed to large Vessels, IV. 141.
Skins: when the Romans began to encamp under them in Winter time, IV. 81.
*Slingers, figures of them, IV. 69. The Nations that excelled in the use of the Sling, IV. 44. A description of some Slingers, ibid. The German Slingers dispute the passing of a River with M. Aurelius, IV. 71.*
Sloth, a Goddess, called Murcia, I. 219.
Smyrna, Symbols of it, and the Neighbouring Cities, III. 125.
Smiths and Carpenters, their Instruments, III. 214.
Soccus, the word seems to have several meanings, III. 39.
Socrates and Plato represented on Minerva's Helmet, I. 86.
*Sol, the Sun, whether he was the same with Apollo: the Origin of Sol, I. 72. In what manners he was represented, ibid. A Medal of Chios, where the Sun, Sol, is represented with the History of Drimachus, ibid. The Horses of the Sun, I. 73. An Image of the Sun in the Medals of Elagabus, ibid. Other Images of the Sun, ibid. Temples of Sol or the Sun, II. 49. Lamps of Sol, V. 147.*
*Soldiers. The manner of levying Soldiers among the Greeks; and first among the Lacedemonians, IV. 2. Why the Lacedemonian Soldiers were cloathed in Red, ibid. Their military Order, IV. 3. Other manners of levying Soldiers among the Greeks, ibid. When the Athenians first gave Pay to their Soldiers, ibid. The manner of levying Soldiers at Rome, and whose Business that was, IV. 5. Every one was obliged to be present at the Levy, ibid. The Age and Stature of them who were listed Soldiers, ibid. The necessity of taking an Oath before they went to any Battle, ibid. The form of the Oath, IV. 6. Reasons for which some of them were dispensed with from going to War, ibid. The Levies of the Cavalry, IV. 6. The difference between the Allies and the Auxiliaries, ibid. Who the Evocati were, IV. 7. Three ways of making the Levies among the Romans, ibid. The Veterans and the Beneficiarii, ibid. Several Classes of the Soldiers among the Romans, ibid. What the Vol. V.*
- Velites, Hastati, Principes, and Triarii were; ibid. Habits of the Soldiers. vide Habit Military. Arms, vide Arms.*
Solea, what it was, III. 39.
*Somnus, or Sleep, a God, I. 228. His Images, ibid. Death called Eternal Sleep in Epicaphs, ibid. His Son, according to Ovid, ibid. The City of the God Sleep mentioned by Lucian, I. 229. Brino, the Goddess of Sleep, *ibid.
Sortilegi, who they were, and the manner of casting Lots, II. 166.
Spalatro, Dioclesian's Pleasure House there, III. 86.
Spaniards, their Gods, II. 280. Their Habits, III. 58. Symbols of Spain, III. 119. The Figures of two Spanish Soldiers, IV. 23. The Arms of the Spaniards, IV. 25.
*Spear, vide Hasta.*
Spectacles of the Circus, monstrous or extraordinary Wild Beasts, III. 184.
Spheristic Dance with Bowls or Balls, III. 198.
*Sphinx's worshipped by the Egyptians, II. 200. The Ancients acknowledged no Male Sphinx, ibid. The Sphinx by the Pyramids, V. 125.*
Spoons and Knives of the Ancients, III. 78.
Sports, publick and private, III. 148. Sports of the Amphitheatre, III. 167.
Stag hunting, III. 204.
Standard of the Cavalry, IV. 57.
Statilius Taurus, where his Amphitheatre was, III. 162.
Stativa Hiberna and Estiva, Winter and Summer Camps called so by the Romans, IV. 81.
*Stirrups, vide Horseman.*
Strigiles, Instruments for the Bath, III. 132.
String Instruments of Musick of the Ancients, III. 224.
Styli, Instruments for writing on Tables, III. 218.
Stympalides, killed and drove away by Hercules, I. 130. A description of the Stympalides, I. 251.
Styx, a Picture of the River, V. 181.
Suboptio, Subaltern Officers, IV. 10.
Succenturions, Subaltern Officers, IV. 10.
Suggestus, from which the Emperors and Generals harangued their Armies, the shape of it, IV. 65.
*Suovetaurilia, vide Sacrifices.*
*Supplications publick, II. 150. Private Supplications, *ibid.
*Swaddling Cloaths, III. 43. An Infant dressed in Swaddling Cloaths, *ibid.
*Swords, their Blades made anciently of Brass, tho' not commonly, IV. 37. Whether the Poets used the word Brass to signify Iron, ibid. The manner of wearing the Sword, IV. 38. The length of the Blades of the Swords, ibid. The Parazonium, IV. 39. Swords of divers Nations, ibid. Images of Swords, ibid. The Pummel of Scipio's Sword published here not certainly Antique, IV. 40.*
Sybarite, the History of them, III. 173.
*Sybills, and their Books, II. 18. The Name, Number and Country of these Prophetesses, ibid. Their Books were bought by Tarquin, and placed in the Custody of the Duumviri, and afterwards of the Decemviri, II. 19.*
*Symbols, a Pine Tree full of the Symbols of Cybele and Attis, I. 11. A Thunderbolt the Symbol of Jupiter, I. 21. The Eagle his other usual Symbol, ibid. Symbols of each of the Muses in particular, I. 68. Symbols of Mercury, I. 79.*
Symbols of Minerva, I. 84. Symbols of Diana, I. 96. An Explanation of them, I. 97. Symbols of Hercules, I. 125. Symbols of Bacchus, I. 146.

INDEX.

A Tiger and Lion carrying his Symbols, I. 157. Bacchic Symbols, I. 164. Symbols of Faith, I. 221. Symbols of Piety, I. 222. Symbols of Concord, I. 224. Other Symbols, ibid. Symbols of Mithras, I. 240. Different Opinions concerning these Symbols, ibid. Symbols of Typhon, II. 186. Symbols of Harpocrates, II. 191. Other Symbols of him, II. 193. Symbols of the parts of the World, III. 117. Of the East and of the West, ibid. Of Asia and of Afric, III. 118. Symbols of Alexandria, ibid. Of Italy, Rome, and other Cities of Italy, ibid. Of the Nile and the Tiber, III. 119. Of Gaul and of Spain, ibid. Symbols of Scicily and its Cities, III. 120. Symbols of Britain, Germany and the Rhine, ibid. Symbols of Rivers according to Elian, III. 121. Symbols of Dacia and Pannonia, ibid. Symbols of the Athenians and other People of Greece, ibid. Of the Theffalians and others, ibid. Of the Islands, III. 122. Symbols of Smyrna and the Neighbouring Cities, III. 125. Of Nysa and several other Cities and Countries, ibid. Symbols of Syria and Phenicia, III. 126. A Symbol of Nuptials, III. 143. A Symbolical Hand, and upon that occasion some observations concerning Symbols, III. 227.

Synthesis, a kind of Habit, III. 10.

Synthroni, Egyptian Gods, who they were, II. 198.

Syrians, their Gods; vide, Phenicians. Symbols of Syria, III. 136.

Syrian Goddess, the same with Cybele, her Images, I. 8. That of Pirro Ligorio very doubtful, I. 9. The Syrian Goddess represented like Diana of Ephesus, ibid.

Syrinx, a Nymph Pan was in Love with, I. 171.

Syrinx, Pan's Flute called so, III. 217.

Systyles, Temples called so, II. 32.

T.

TABLE, III. 71. They anciently sat down at Table, as is practised now, ibid. Why the Ancients introduced the Custom of lying down to eat, the Magnificence of their Beds at their Tables, ibid. Images of the Ancient Triclinia with the Tables, III. 72. The number of Persons invited, ibid. The Napkins, ibid. Vessels used at Table or in the Kitchin, III. 78. Cup-bearers and drinking Vessels, ibid. Knives and Spoons, ibid.

Tables for Writing on, the shape of them, III. 224.

Tali, or Cockal, one of the Lesser Games, III. 211.

Tapyrians, their Habit, III. 51.

Tarentina Vestis, a Story upon this Subject from Lucian, III. 23.

Taurobolia; vide Sacrifices.

Telamon, an Image of him, and his Wife Hesione, III. 8. A Statue of them, IV. 11.

Telephorus, the God of such as recovered from Sickness, his Habit, I. 183. Several Names of him, I. 184. Figures of him, ibid. His Temple, II. 63.

Telefina, her Urn, V. 44.

Tempest, a Goddess, I. 217.

Temples. The Origin of them, II. 29. Their various Names, and the difference between Templum, Fanum, Edes, and Delubrum, ibid. The Temples of the Augurs, II. 30. The parts of the Temples, ibid. Temples on the tops of Mountains, ibid. Several forms of Temples, Square, Round, Oval, II. 31. Of the Peripteres, Dipteres and Pseudodipteres, Prostylos and Hypetres, ibid. The Intercolumns, the Pycnostyles, Systyles, Eustyles, Diastyles and Areostyles, II. 32. Temples turned toward the East, after what manner, ibid. What Order of Architecture was more peculiar to each God, II. 33. Besides the Statue of the God to whom the Temple was dedicated, Statues of other Gods were placed there generally, ibid. The Temple of Nimes called Diana's, and thought to have been a Pantheon, ibid. The Pantheon at Rome, called the Temple of Minerva Medica, II. 34. The great Pantheon at Rome called the Rotonda, ibid. The Ornaments and Riches of the Temples, II. 35. A Brazen Temple called Calciccos, also a Temple of transparent Stone, II. 36. The Consecration of Temples, ibid. The Situation of Temples, according to Vitruvius, ibid. The Asylums of Temples, II. 37. Temples pelted with Stones in publick Calamities, II. 38. The Temple of Cybele, or Rhea, ibid. Of Saturn, ibid. Of Janus, ibid. An extraordinary Temple of Janus at Autun, II. 39. The magnificent Temple of Jupiter Olympius described by Pausanias, ibid. Other Temples of Jupiter, II. 42. Some Temples of Jupiter upon Medals, ibid. The Temple of Jupiter Mylissa, ibid. The Temple of Jupiter Capitolinus, ibid. Another Temple of Jupiter Capitolinus, built upon the ruins of the Temple of Jerusalem, II. 44. Temples of Jupiter under different Names, ibid. Other Temples taken from Medals, ibid. The Temple of Juno Lucina, and another little Temple of Juno, by that of Jupiter in the Ostavian Portico, II. 45. Other Temples of Juno, ibid. The Temple of Samian Juno, a memorable History concerning it, ibid. Other Temples of Juno, II. 46. The Temple of Vesta, ibid. The Temple of Neptune, ibid. Of Pluto, Proserpine, Ceres, II. 47. And of Vulcan, ibid. The Temple of Apollo at Delphos, ibid. Extraordinary Histories of some Temples of Apollo, II. 48. Temples of Apollo Palatinus, ibid. Other Temples of Apollo and the Muses, II. 49. The Temple of Latona with a singular piece of History, ibid. Temples of Sol, or the Sun, ibid. Of Mars, II. 50. Of Bellona, ibid. The Temple of Mercury at Rome, at the Foot of Mount Aventin, and other Temples of the same God, II. 51. The magnificent Temple of Minerva, at Athens, ibid. Other Temples of Minerva in Greece, and her Brazen Temple, II. 53. The Temple of Minerva Ilias, and others of her, ibid. The Temple of Diana of Ephesus, reckoned among the seven Wonders of the World; its Structure according to Pliny, II. 54. A description of its Ruins from M. Spon, II. 55. Some remarkable Particulars concerning this Temple, ibid. The Temple of Diana on Mount Aventin, and its Pavement, II. 56. Why the hunting of the Stag is not represented there, II. 57. A particularity of the Temple of Diana in the Isle Icarus, ibid. The Temple of Paphian Venus and its Court, ibid. The Temples of the same Goddess at Rome, II. 58. A description of Sallustian Venus, ibid. The pretended Miracles of the Temple of Venus Erycina, II. 59. A question concerning the Temple of Venus Cloacina, ibid. Other Temples of Venus, and the Temples of Adonis, II. 60. The Temples of Hercules, ibid. His Temple at Rome where Flies and Dogs never entered, II. 61. A particular History about the Temple of Bacchus built at Samos, ibid. Other Temples of Bacchus, ibid. The Temples of Fau-nus, Pan, Silvanus, and Flora, II. 62. The Temples

INDEX.

- ples of Esculapius, and particularly that in the Isle in the River Tiber at Rome, ibid. The Confluence of the People that came to the Temples of Esculapius, II. 63. The Temples of Hygiea Telephorus, and Juventus, ibid. Those of the Goddesses Rome, ibid. The Temples of Castor and Pollux, and of Nemesis, II. 64. A great number of Temples of Fortune at Rome, ibid. A remarkable Temple of the Fortune of Preneste, with the Profile of it, II. 65. The Temple of Fortunes, or of the Sisters of Artium, ibid. The Temples of Good-luck, of the Lares, of Matuta, of Tutelina, of Hope, of Felicity, and of Liberty, ibid. The magnificent Temple of Peace at Rome, II. 66. The Temples of Victory, II. 67. The Temples of the evil and pernicious Gods, ibid. The Temples of the Virtues which were ranked among the number of the Gods, ibid. The Temples of Concord, and others, II. 68. Temples of the Moon, ibid. A great many other Temples at Rome, several of which were consecrated to the Emperors, ibid. The great number of Temples at Rome, a small one with an Entrance into it thro' the Roof only, II. 69. In what part of Rome the Temple of Julius Cæsar stood, II. 70. Other Temples, II. 71. A Description of a fine round Temple, ibid. A Temple near Athens, II. 72. A Description of the square House at Nimes, proved to have been a Temple, ibid. A Temple at Vieuno in Dauphiny, II. 73. A Description of the Temple of Balbec, or ancient Heliopolis, ibid. Another magnificent Temple, II. 74. Temples with two or four Columns in the Front, ibid. With six or eight, II. 75. With ten or twelve, II. 76. A great Number of Temples delineated by Soria, and all of an extraordinary Figure, ibid. ~~The Temples of Persers, Helena and others, II. 79.~~
- Tents*, IV. 83. Other Tents, ibid.
- Terra*, the Mother of Saturn, I. 11. Concerning her, I. 12.
- Tesseræ*, given to Gladiators, III. 170. Tesseræ, or Dice, III. 211. Several kinds of them, ibid.
- Tesserarit*, who they were, IV. 46.
- Testudo*, a warlike Engine, IV. 89. The Testudo compos'd of armed Soldiers to attack Places, IV. 90. Used by several Nations, and by the Romans, ibid. Images of the Testudo, ibid. Another Figure of the Testudo made in open Field, IV. 91. The double Testudo, ibid.
- Tethys*, concerning her, I. 12.
- Thalamagus*, a great Ship built by Ptolemy Philopater for sailing on the Nile, IV. 162.
- Tharamis*, supposed to be the same as Jupiter, II. 263.
- Theatre*, the Description of one in general, III. 148. What the Vomitorium and Præcinctiones were, III. 149. What the Proscenium and Pulpitum, ibid. What the Scena, III. 150. The three Scenes, Tragic, Comic, and Satyric, according to Serlio, ibid. The Theatre of Marcellus, III. 151. A Description of the Theatre of Saguntum, by Emanuel Marti, Dean of Alicant, ibid. The Plan of the Theatre of Pompey, III. 157. The Theatre of Pola, ibid. The Theatre of Alauna, now Vallogne, III. 158. The Theatres of Orange and Narbonne, III. 159. The Theatre between Ferento and Vetulonio, ibid. The Difference between the Greek and Roman Theatres, ibid.
- Thensa*, what it was, IV. 122.
- Theodosius* the Great, Images of him, III. 29.
- Thermae*, what they were, those of Antoninus, III. 133. The Thermae of Dioclesian, III. 134. Exercises of the Thermae, ibid. Other Thermae, III. 135. The Thermae at Paris, ibid. Funnels to carry off the Steams, ibid.
- Theraphim* of Laban, what they were, II. 243.
- The Juliani*, Symbols of them, III. 121.
- Theutates* of Lucan supposed to be the same with the Mercury of the Gauls, II. 263. Mercury proved to be the same as Theutates, ibid.
- Thomyris*, Queen of Scythia, a Head supposed to be hers, III. 51.
- Thyades*, the History of them, I. 160. Another History of the same, I. 161.
- Tiara's* of the Kings of Armenia; the Parthian Kings wore the like, III. 50.
- Tiber*, Symbols of it, III. 119.
- Tigers, the way of hunting them with a Looking-glass, III. 206. Another singular Way of hunting Tigers, ibid.
- Tintiniac*, the Amphitheatre there, III. 166.
- Titan*, concerning him and his Sons the Titans, I. 12.
- Titus* the Emperor, his Triumph taken from the Antique, IV. 162.
- Tityri*, the Figure of them, I. 172.
- Toga* or Gown, vide Habit.
- Tombs*, or Sarcophagi, V. 65. The Tomb of Cecilia Metella, and another consecrated to Bona Dea, V. 66. Another Tomb, ibid. A fine ornamented Tomb of Alexander Severus, ibid. A fine Bass Relief supposed to be the front part of the Tomb of Fauftina the younger, V. 67. Another Tomb, ibid. Other Sarcophagi, Bass Reliefs and Sepulchral Inscriptions, V. 68. Why Tombs were dedicated under an Ax, V. 71. Lacrymatory Urns placed in Tombs, V. 77. A remarkable Tomb discovered at Blois, V. 129.
- Tortures*, vide Criminals.
- Towers*. Moving Towers, IV. 83. Towers raised on Ships. A Passage of Vegetius, IV. 168. In what Part of the Ship the Towers were placed, IV. 169. These Towers were erected only during a Fight, according to Servius, ibid.
- Trabea*, a Habit, III. 16.
- Trajan* the Emperor, a Figure of him in a short Habit, with a Chlamys over it, or Paludatus, III. 20. Trajan hunts a Boar, III. 205. He hunts a Lion, III. 209. He hunts a Bear, ibid. Trajan's Winter military Habit, IV. 47. A Picture of him on Horseback, ibid. A Horse of Trajan harnessed, IV. 48. Trajan's Trophies, IV. 93. His Pillar, and the true reading of the Inscription of it, IV. 109. His Bridge built over the Danube, the Form of it, IV. 118.
- Tranquility*, a Goddess, I. 214.
- Travos Trigaranus*, Inscriptions on Bass Reliefs found in the Cathedral Church of Paris, II. 270.
- Triarii*, one of the Classes of the Soldiers among the Romans, IV. 7.
- Tribes*, an Enumeration of the Roman Tribes, V. 54.
- Tribomos*, or triple Altar, what it was, II. 81.
- Tribonion*, a Habit, its Shape, III. 8.
- Tribunes*, Officers that commanded the sixth Part of a Legion, IV. 9. Several sorts of Tribunes and their Duties, ibid.
- Triclinium*, taken sometimes for the Table, sometimes for the Salle, or Room they eat in. A difficulty in this matter, III. 63. A History of Lucullus, III. 64. The Apartments of the Women in Greece were distinct from those of the Men, ibid. Images of the ancient Triclinii, III. 72. A Triclinium in the Form of a Crescent, ibid. Called Sigma, and why, III. 73. A Triclinium of the Emperor Maximus, ibid. A Triclinium of the Emperor Em.

I N D E X.

- Emperor Majorianus, ibid. Other Images of Triclinia, ibid.
- Trigae*, Chariots with three Horses abreast, III. 178.
- Tripod*, the Meaning of it, II. 85. The Figure of the Tripod at Delphos, ibid. Representations of several Tripods, II. 86. Remarks on the Tripod of Bacchus, III. 95.
- Triptolemus*, the History of him, I. 57.
- Triremes*, their Origin, IV. 156. Triremes taken for Vessels of War in general, IV. 157. An Image of a Triremis on Trajan's Pillar, ibid. Vide Ships.
- Tritons*, the Form of them, I. 45. Several Images of the Tritons and Sea-horses, ibid. Lamps of the Tritons, V. 146.
- Triumphs*: The triumphal Procession of Antiochus Epiphanes, King of Syria, III. 190. That of Ptolemy Philadelphus King of Egypt, III. 191. Triumphs of the Greeks, IV. 95. Triumphs of the Romans, IV. 96. The Laws of the Roman Triumph, IV. 96. The Order and manner of the Roman Triumph, ibid. The Honours after the Triumph, IV. 99. The Triumph of Paulus Emilius who conquered Macedon, IV. 100. The Triumph of the Emperor Titus taken from the Antique, IV. 102. The Triumph of Marcus Aurelius, ibid. Other Triumphs, in one of which there is a Chariot with Six Horses, IV. 103. The Triumph for a Naval Victory, IV. 104.
- Troglodites*, their Funerals, V. 126.
- Trophies*, the Greeks erected Trophies, their Form, IV. 92. Trophies of the Romans, ibid. Of Trajan, IV. 93. Variety of Trophies, ibid. A Dispute about the Trophies of Marius, IV. 94. Other Trophies, ibid. Some remarkable Trophies, ibid. The Trophy before the Deer of Sertorius, IV. 95.
- Trophonius's Cave*, and the Oracle of it, the singular manner of consulting them, II. 164. Description of his Cave, and of the Ceremonies observed by them, who enter'd into it to consult him, II. 164. What they ought to do when they came out of it, ibid.
- Tropis*, what it was, IV. 159.
- Troy*, Lamps representing the History of it, V. 156.
- Trumpet*, a military Instrument, III. 217. Trumpet, IV. 61.
- Tuccia*, a Vestal Virgin, the History of her, I. 40.
- Tulliola*, the Instance of perpetual Lamps, drawn from her's confuted. V. 141.
- Tunic*, vide Habit.
- Tutela*. A Distinction between those Gods that were called Tutela, and those which gave their Names to Vessels, IV. 158.
- Tutelar Gods*, I. 206. Tutanus, ibid. Tutelina, ibid. Her Temple, II. 66.
- Tympanums or Drums*, III. 218.
- Typhon* is the bad Principle, according to the Egyptians, II. 73. The History of him, II. 185. He is the Evil Principle represented by several Symbols, II. 186.
- U.
- Valentian the Third*, an Image of him, III. 29.
- Valentinians*, Gnostics and Basilidians mixed the Pagan Gods with the Christian Religion, II. 224. Several Cabinets furnish us with a great Number of Gems which prove this monstrous Worship, ibid. The Letter of the Emperor Hadrian on this Subject, ibid.
- Valogne*, the ancient Alauna, a Plan of its Hot Baths or Thermae, III. 129. Its Theatre, III. 158.

- Vase of one Gaietanus, a Description of it, I. 145. A Vase representing Bacchus, I. 152. With the four Seasons of the Year, ibid. An Hetruscan Vase with Bacchus represented on it, I. 156. A Vase of M. Foucault, shaped like a Bacchans, I. 161. A fine Vase of Agate, in the Treasury of St. Dennis in France, its Shape and Size, I. 162. It represents the Bacchanalian Mysteries, ibid. The Bacchic Baskets with Serpents creeping out of them, I. 103. A great silver Cup of M. Foucault covered with Bacchic Symbols, I. 164. A fine Vase belonging to the Duke of Brunswic, representing a Sacrifice to Ceres, II. 113. A Vase of Isis, II. 260. Corinthian Vases, III. 87. Earthen Necro-Corinthian Vases, ibid. Presents made of Vases at Feasts, III. 88. Vessels of Coptos in Egypt; of Samos and Delos, ibid. Vases called Murrhina or Myrrhina, ibid. Whether they were the same with those made of Onyx, III. 89. Chrystal Vases, ibid. Vases distinguished according to their Size and Use, III. 90. Large earthen Vessels for keeping Wine and other Liquors, ibid. marked with their Owners Names, III. 91. Wooden Vessels used by the Romans, and some of them of an extraordinary Size, ibid. An Hetruscan Vase with Figures, ibid. What the Amphora was, or Pitcher with two Handles, III. 92. A remarkable Etruscan Vase, ibid. Skins or Leather Bottles, ibid. The Epichysis of the Ancients, III. 93. And Guttus, ibid. A Vessel in the Shape of a Man's Head, ibid. Other Vessels, ibid. The Vase called Fidelia, and others, ibid. The Handles of the Vases, III. 94. Glass Vases, ibid. Vases and Ointments used at Bathing, III. 133.
- Vejovis*, the Meaning of it, I. 24.
- Velites*, one of the Classes of Soldiers among the Romans, IV. 7.
- Ventilatores*, what they were, V. 44.
- Venus*, the divers Origins of her, and the different Venus's mentioned by Authors, I. 100. Three Venus's represented in Monuments, Venus the Celestial, Sea-Venus, and Venus Popularis, ibid. Images of Venus the Celestial, ibid. Sea-Venus born of the Sea, I. 101. Sea-Venus just born, supported on a Shell by two Tritons who express a great Reverence for her, ibid. Procession of Sea-Venus on the Sea, and her magnificent Attendance, ibid. Other Representations of Sea-Venus, ibid. Venus Popularis the common Goddess of Love, called Cypris by the Greeks, I. 102. A Statue of her made by Praxiteles, begged in Marriage, ibid. A Statue of Venus belonging to the great Duke of Tuscany, and other fine Statues of her, ibid. A Statue of Venus carrying a Dove in her Hand, I. 103. The triumphal Pomp of Venus, ibid. The Lacedemonians represented Venus armed, ibid. Venus victorious in two manners, I. 104. Why Venus wears a myrtle Crown, ibid. The Amours of Venus and Adonis, I. 105. The Judgment of Paris, I. 106. Cupid, Focus and Venus mentioned together by Horace, and represented in an Image here, I. 111. The Temple of Paphian Venus and its Court, II. 57. The Temples of the same Goddess at Rome, II. 58. A Description of Sallustian Venus, ibid. The pretended Miracles of the Temple of Venus Erycina, II. 59. A Question concerning the Temple of Venus Cloacina, ibid. Other Temples of Venus, II. 60. Astarte Goddess of the Pheenicians, esteemed to be Venus Byblia. Images of her, II. 246. Concerning Mitra, the Venus of the Persians, II. 251. Lamps of Venus and Cupid, V. 149.

Verona,

I N D E X.

- Verona*, its Amphitheatre, III. 164.
Vertumnus, a Rustic God, surprises the Goddess
Pomona, I. 176. His different Images, I. 177.
Verutum, a kind of Dart, IV. 40.
Vespasian, his Amphitheatre, III. 163.
Vessels used at Table or in the Kitchin, III. 78.
 The Cup-bearers and Drinking-vessels, ibid. vide
 Vases.
Vesta, the Opinion of the Ancients concerning her,
 I. 38. Different Images of this Goddess, ibid.
Vesta represented on Medals, ibid. A singular Vesta in the Villa Mattheia, I. 39. The Temple of Vesta, II. 46.
Vestals. The Hair of the Vestals Heads was cut close, ibid. The History of the Vestal Virgin
Tuccia; and Vesta's Lamp or the Vestal Fire, I.
 40. The Vestals were more ancient than Rome, their number, II. 20. Of what Condition they ought to be, ibid. Their Functions, ibid. They kept the sacred Fire and other Things, II. 21.
 The Privileges of the Vestals, ibid. The Punishment of them who did not keep their Virginity, ibid. Junia Torquata, Priestess of Vesta,
 II. 27.
Vestibule, a Part of a House, III. 61. The Difference between the Vestibule and the Atrium, ibid.
Vestis pullata, or the black Habit, III. 16. Vestis scutulata, Vestis subarmalis, what they were, III. 20.
Vestis Tarentina, a Story on this Subject from Lucian, III. 23.
Vetulonio, the Theatre between it and Ferento, III.
 159.
Vices deified by the Greeks and Romans, I. 217.
Victory a Goddess, I. 215. Temples of her II. 67.
Victims, vide Sacrifices.
Virgil's Munfolcum, V. 88.
Virtue and Pleasure present themselves to Hercules
 when a Youth, under the Form of two Women, he chuses Virtue, I. 125. Virtues deified by the Greeks and Romans, I. 219. Virtue and Honour, two Deities who were joined together, ibid. Honor had sometimes a distinct Worship, ibid. Virtue likewise separately worshipped, I. 220. Virtue represented in several manners, ibid. The Temples of the Virtues which were ranked among the Number of the Gods, II. 67.
Volusius Urbanus, Nomenclator, his Urn, V. 55.
Vomitoria, Parts of a Theatre, III. 149.
Vows, a great number of them in ancient Monuments, II. 152. Vows to Jupiter, II. 153. A
Vow to Neptune for a prosperous Voyage, ibid.
 A Vow for a safe Journey and Return, ibid. A
Vow for a safe Lying-in, II. 154. A singular Vow to Esculapius taken from a Gem, ibid. It is believed to be a Vow of the Emperor M. Aure-lius, II. 155. Esculapius invoked particularly against the Plague, ibid. A Vow of an Altar to Esculapius, ibid. The Fingers, Feet and Eyes vowed to Esculapius and other Gods, II. 157.
Vows to other Gods and Goddesses, ibid. Vows to Ceres, Hercules and Silvanus, II. 158. A very remarkable Monument, being a Vow to Hercules, named Illumus, ibid. A great number of Vows in Greece, II. 159. Vows after Admonitions or Notices from the Gods, or after Visions and Dreams, ibid. A Hand, a Vow of Cecropius, explained, II. 208.
Urns. Sepulchral Urns of several Shapes, V. 27.
 Urns called Ollæ, ibid. A Mourner, V. 28. What the Columbaria, Obrendaria and Cineraria were, V.
 29. Sepulchral Urns for the Ashes, round, V.
 36. The Urn of Alexander Severus, ibid. A singular Urn wrapt in Amiantus, V. 37. Other round Urns, V. 38. Square Urns, V. 39. Urns
 V. 40.
- of C. Claudius and Chrysis, ibid. An extraordinary Urn of Ignatius Nicephorus, ibid. Another singular Urn of Nicocrates the Poet, V. 40. Urns of Calphurnia and Hermias Threptus, V. 41. Other Urns, V. 42. V the Mark of the Living and Θ of the Dead, ibid. Other Urns, V. 43.
 The Urn called Quietorium, V. 44. The Urn of Telefina, ibid. What the Pilarii and Ventilatores were, ibid. Another Urn, V. 45. An Urn of Julia Erois, ibid. Dogs represented on Sepulchres, ibid. Young Children dead figured on Horseback, V. 46. Other Urns, V. 48. Other Urns and Epitaphs, V. 49. A Sepulchral Urn situated in a remarkable manner, Chrystral Balls in the Urns, V. 50. Bacchus riding on a Tyger, ibid. The Sepulchral Stone called an Altar, V. 51.
 Other Urns, ibid. An Urn of the Cabinet of St.
 Genevieve and others, V. 52. The Urn of Hel-vius Celer, V. 55. The Urn of Volusius Urbanus
 the Nomenclator, ibid. Several other Urns, ibid.
 Other Urns and Epitaphs, V. 57. A fine Urn of Herbasia Climene, ibid. An Urn of the Guardian of the Claudian Water, V. 58. Other Urns, V. 59. A remarkable Urn of Livilla Harmonia,
 V. 60. Other Urns and Sepulchral Inscriptions of a different Form, V. 61. Urns with several holes in them, V. 63. Lachrymatory Urns placed in Tombs, V. 66.
- Ustrinum*, or Place where dead Bodies were burnt,
 V. 18.
- Utensils of a Kitchin, III. 78. Knives and Spoons,
ibid. The shape of the Cacabus, ibid. A fine Strainer adorned with Figures, ibid. Other Utensils of a Kitchin, III. 79.
- Vulcan*, the History of him, I. 59. He doth not appear limping in the Figures of him which remain, ibid. Images of him, ibid. Mars and Venus caught in Adultery by an Artifice of Vulcan, I. 60. This Affair rallied by St. Chrysostom, ibid. The first Image of the Adultery, I. 61.
 The second, ibid. The Temple of Vulcan, II.
 47. A Figure and Inscription of him in Bass
 Reliefs found in the Cathedral Church of Paris,
 II. 270.
- W.
- WALKS. Shaded Walks of the Ancients,
 III. 87.
- Ways. The Roman publick Ways the most magnificient of all their Works, IV. 113. The high Ways of Italy better made than those of the Provinces, ibid. After what manner those Ways were made, IV. 114. Banks called Margines raised on the sides of those Ways, ibid. The Form and Structure of the great Ways without Italy, IV. 115. What the Mansiones and Mutatio-nes were, ibid. The Grotto of Puteoli, or a Way cut thro' a Mountain, ibid. Another Way like it under the Capitol at Rome, ibid.
- Weavers of the Ancients, concerning them, III.
 225.
- Weddings*, vide Marriages.
- Weights. The Ancient Roman Weights, III. 107.
 The Division of the Pound into its several parts,
ibid. Figures of the Roman Weights, ibid. Other Figures, ibid. A singular Weight of the Emperor Honorius and others, III. 109.
- Whale, Hercules swallowed by one, I. 128.
- Wheel-barrows, IV. 123.
- Wheel, a Punishment called so, V. 161.
- Winds reputed Gods, their Altars, II. 83.
- Windows. Whether the Ancients had any Glass Windows, III. 67.

I N D E X.

Wisdom represented as a Person, I. 223.
Wolf, a Military Ensign even in Trajan's time, IV. 58.
World, the seven Wonders of it related differently by different Authors, V. 79.
Works. The Military Works of the Ancients, IV. 62. The Prodigious Works of the Roman Soldiers, ibid. Several Figures of the Military Works, ibid.
Wrestlers. Hetruscan Wrestlers, III. 170. Wrestling of the Circus, III. 185.
Writing. The Instruments for Writing, III. 219.

The Ink, ibid. Writing in a Red Letter, III. 220. Writing in a Golden Letters, ibid. The Papers used for Writing, vide Paper. The Quills and Pens for Writing, III. 223. Other Instruments for Writing, ibid. An Ancient Ink-horn of the Treasury of St. Dennis, ibid.

Z.

Zoroaster, according to Plutarch, admitted two Principles, II. 254.
Zenobia, a Head of her and Odenatus, III. 47.

F I N I S.

